

the man in the mirror |||||

DESIRE

Take 1: lady

Turning the pages of the book of nature a young girl appeared – dancing;
She whispered these words: Humans are not made for a lonely sojourn.
Love. Secretly I looked up to the midnight skies and interceded on my heart's behalf. The exchange rate for love was the child. He silenced me forever.

Take 2: husband

Turning the pages of the book of nature a young man appeared – weeping;
He shouted these words: Faithfulness is all I wanted. Honor. The babe is a stranger. She cannot live. There is no room in my home for him.

Take 3: child

Turning the pages of the book of nature a baby appeared – crying & giggling;
He thought these words: Attention. He abandoned me. Adoption.

Take 4: moon

Turning the pages of the book of nature the moon appeared –smiling;
She said these words: A child is a child. A human child is just as good as a moon child.

Luciano Milliard
Aruba, Autumn 2007

